Saturday 2nd February

Nottingham Hospitals Choir

St Peter's welcomes the Nottingham Hospitals Choir (founded in 1970 to entertain patients at the former General Hospital) in a programme of English choral music, including favourite works by John Rutter and Karl Jenkins.

Saturday 9th February

Strauss: Metamorphosen

Glazunov: Saxophone Concerto

Principal cellist of the City of Birmingham Symphony Orchestra, Richard Jenkinson, conducts local musicians in a programme of two seldom performed works. Don't miss this rare opportunity to hear Strauss' heartfelt lament for string septet, and Glazunov's delightful concerto for saxophone and strings.

Saturday 16th February

Elena Anastopoulos, soprano

Olga Solugub, piano

St Peter's plays host to the talents of university music students Elena Anastopoulos and Olga Solugub in a stirring programme of music for soprano and piano, including works by Mozart, Rachmaninov, Wolf and Gurney.

Saturday 23rd February

Pergolesi: Stabat Mater

In commemoration of the season of Lent, the upper voices of the St Peter's Church Choir perform Pergolesi's dramatic setting of the Stabat Mater, a moving depiction of the suffering of the Virgin Mary at the foot of the cross.
