FESTIVAL CONCERT

The Choirs of St Mary's & St Peter's with the Orchestra of the Restoration

As part of the celebrations of the unification of the parish of All Saints, St Mary's and St Peter's, both choirs are joined by the Orchestra of the Restoration to perform a programme of music by Handel: his delightful organ concerto in F major will be followed by the triumphant Foundling Hospital Anthem.

PLEASE NOTE THAT ON THE 6TH OCTOBER THERE WILL BE NO COFFEE BREAK CONCERT, BUT AT 7.30PM AT ST MARY'S THERE IS A CONCERT INCLUDING PAGANINI'S FIRST VIOLIN CONCERTO AND SAINT-SAËNS' ORGAN CONCERTO. TICKETS FROM THE NOTTINGHAM PLAYHOUSE (0115 941 9419).

Saturday 13th October

Anna Williams, oboe

Peter Siepmann, piano

Oboist Anna Williams makes a welcome return to St Peter's to perform music by CPE Bach, Kalliwoda and Hindemith. She is joined at the piano by the newly appointed Director of Music at St Peter's & All Saints', Peter Siepmann.

Saturday 20th October

Sarah Simmonds, soprano

Philip Robinson, piano

The acclaimed soprano, Sarah Simmonds presents a programme of mainly English song from Dowland and Purcell to Walton and Dring, with a slight detour through oratorio favourites by Bach, Handel and Pergolesi. A few items from well-loved musicals will also make an appearance!

Saturday 27th October

Essentially Brass

The recently formed ensemble, Essentially Brass, present a diverse programme of music, ranging from Gabrieli to Poulenc to popular jazz classics. The concert will include pieces that employ the group's full complement of ten players, as well as some smaller chamber ensemble works. Don't miss out on what promises to be a most entertaining concert!

Saturday 1st December

ADVENT CONCERT

Nottingham Baroque Soloists

Escape from the stresses of Christmas shopping as the Nottingham Baroque Soloists make a much anticipated return to St Peter's to perform a programme of music for Advent, including Bach's beautiful motet, Jesu, meine Freude, and his famous Advent cantata, Wachet Auf.
